Heidtman Steel predicts growth and a bright future

Heidtman Steel Products, Inc., officially inaugurated its Granite City operation Friday, inviting Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, members of the city council and the Press-Record for a tour of the plant.

Tom Calhoun, 30, who was just named vice-president in charge of the Granite City facility and a member of the board of directors of Heidtman Steel last week, told officials that he feels indications for the future of the plant get brighter every day.

IN ADDITION to the customers now keeping the pickling line and slitting line busy eight hours a day, the plant already has picked some steel coils from Granite City Steel for the A.O. Smith Corp. plant which is reopening on Route 3. Those coils will be used for test production, probably late this month.

"We hope for the A.O. Smith business. They demand high quality and we believe we can deliver that quality," Calhoun said. "We are getting busier almost on a daily basis," he added.

The new plant processes steel coils, mostly from Granite City Steel, uncoils them, cleans the steel in water and then a hydrochloric acid solution, then dries the metal and coats it with oil to prevent rusting before recoiling the clean steel, ready for shipping.

THE CAPACITY of the $9.3 million plant is the cleaning of 25,000 tons of steel a month in three shifts a day. However, currently the plant operates only one shift a day and it may be some time before a second shift is added to the pickling line. The slitter, which cuts wide coils into several narrow coils is busier, Calhoun noted. "We are very close to adding a second shift on the slitter," he said.

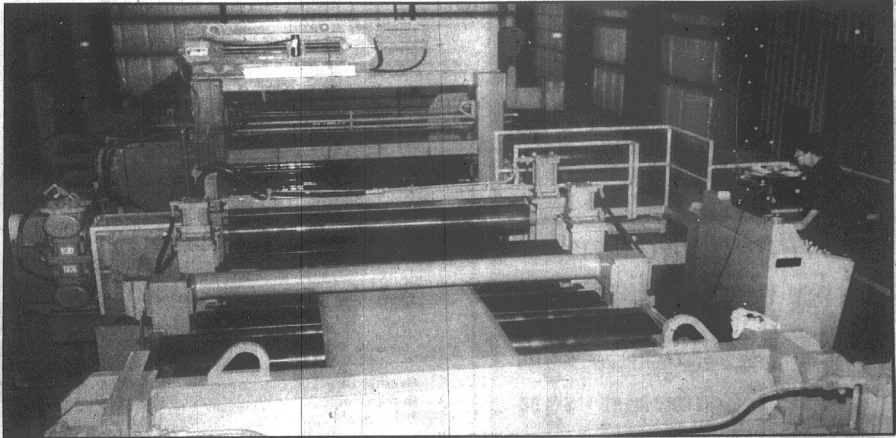

Currently, the plant employs 21 persons. Calhoun says he anticipates growth to about 50 persons when it operates at three shifts, but cautioned that such growth appears to be several years away, "depending on the marketplace."

While the steel mills traditionally pickle their own steel for such major customers as the automotive industry, Heidtman Steel is one of the industries which provides specialized services in other areas.

AUTOMOTIVE wheel manufacturers are major Heidtman customers. The firm also produces most of the steel for automotive trucks and car convertible mechanisms, and supplies steel for inner door parts for cars, metal buildings, truck trailers, farm tractors and other products. "We don't compete with the mills. We help the mills," Calhoun said.

For example, he noted, Heidtman has the capacity to pickle steel more than Granite City Steel can, so orders for the wide coils are processed in the new Heidtman facility before shipment. Heidtman will process

Nesco financing sets model for use throughout the state

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Editor

A ceremony marking not only the survival of the Nesco Steel Barrel Co. plant under ownership by its employees, but of hope for future growth and expansion of the plant was conducted Thursday afternoon as local and state officials were invited to a ribbon cutting and tour.

Al Zamarione, president and chairman of the board, noted at the ceremony that "the plan is to expand to make closures as well as other types of manufacturing." He said the plant plans to produce closure devices not only for the barrels manufactured here, but to sell them to other plants. New equipment and an additional three to five employees will be required "within six months to a year," Zamarione predicted.

THE FINANCING for the employees' purchase of the plant is unique in the history of the state and, possibly, the nation, according to Mary Ferrando, marketing manager for the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, whose department came up with a $150,000 loan for seven years at a 3 percent interest to help the company survive.

"This is the first buyout at the state level. I find it exciting and very encouraging. It took many, many people to make this go. Our department stands ready to assist other companies like Nesco to create jobs and retain jobs in Illinois."

"We hope to continue to do this sort of thing across the state," she said.

SHE NOTED that the loan, from the state's Business Fixed Rate Financing Fund, is a revolving one in that, once it is repaid, the money will remain under the control of Madison County to use for similar job creation and retention at another business in the county.

The remainder of the $900,000 required for the employees to buy the facility came from the employees themselves and from loans by First Granite City National Bank and Madison County Federal Savings and Loan.

The employees were required to purchase at least $1,000 worth of stock in the company and all became voting stockholders. Many had to finance the purchase of the stock, since they had been out of work for some time, officials said.

ZAMARIONE NOTED, "When the opportunity to buy the plant was made to me, I said, 'I think we'll all buy the company and all be stockholders.'"

He noted that there are 43 employees today and the plant is beginning to make money. "The first 1 1/2 months were disastrous. The next month showed a small profit. The third month went very well," Zamarione said, adding, "Business is picking up."

Steady customers such as Monsanto and Shell Oil Co. are giving the business a chance, despite problems in the past with the former Reliable Nesco business failing to fill some of their orders, other company officials told the Press-Record. Asked if mismanagement was a problem with the now-defunct Reliable Nesco, Zamarione responded, "Yes, very much so."

"THERE IS a market here for the product. There are chemical manufacturers, paint and food processors here," he noted.

He said he has been happy with the employees owning the company. "This is an opportunity that comes once in a lifetime for the employees. It benefits the product and quality," he noted.

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer detailed a history of the buyout, noting that, "Early this year, employees were informed of a possible closure of the plant and the loss of 40 jobs. Our economic development people (including Aaron Kidenour, development coordinator for the county's Community Development office) met with the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs and obtained a $150,000 loan at 3 percent interest for seven years which, when repaid, will remain in the county for other development efforts."

Except for the efforts of everyone involved at the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, the county, the DCCA, the local financial institutions and the plant itself, the plant "would very easily have shut down," Hagnauer said, adding, "This is an excellent example of public and private sector cooperation."

JAMES PENNEKAMP, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, also praised those involved and said everyone was "very cooperative and willing to get involved."

He noted that State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) and State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) also helped "track it through." Both state officials were present at Thursday's ceremony.

He also praised the local news media for "helping build public confidence" in Nesco and its future.

VADALABENE also praised those involved and Governor James R. Thompson, saying, "Cooperation was instrumental in bringing together the financial package which enabled local Nesco workers to go from employees to plant owners."

"The $150,000 loan from Commerce and Community Affairs, combined with loans from two banks and employee contributions is an excellent example of how government, the private sector and individuals can work together to keep the Illinois economy alive and well," Vadalabene concluded.

After the ceremony, visitors and employees went into the plant, located at 18th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, where the Rev. John Polizzi of the Christian Fellowship Center of Troy blessed the plant and prayed for a successful future for the venture.

ZAMARIONE and Vice President Kenneth Carr were among those who escorted the visitors through the plant and explained the operation and expansion plans.

Explosions awaken many

Numerous telephone calls were received by the Granite City Police Department at 4:25 a.m. today from persons hearing two or three loud explosions that awakened many and rattled doors and windows.

According to a police notation, the explosive noises were attributed to hot slag meeting water at International Mill Services, 22nd Street and Edwardsville Road.

A FOREMAN at IMS said this morning that he had no knowledge of any explosions taking place at the slag firm.

Early morning radio reports indicated the loud booming sounds originated from Granite City Steel, caused by employees dropping a slag pot into water.

However, CCS safety department personnel reported the explosions did not come from the steel company, a plant spokesman said today. CALLS CAME into the police station from many areas, including inquiries from the Illinois State Police and Madison County Sheriff's Department.

Japan agrees to limit steel imports

Japan on Thursday became the first nation to agree to limit its steel exports to America under new negotiations begun by Pres. Ronald Reagan. The president hopes to reduce total U.S. imports of finished steel to 18.5 percent of the market.

Similar agreements are being sought by the U.S. this week with Brazil, Mexico, South Korea and possibly the European Common Market.

A FIXED LIMIT estimated at 5.5 to 6 percent of the U.S. market is to be included in the pact with Japan. An agreement in principle has been reached, with some of the details remaining to be decided.

Pres. Reagan said Sept. 10 he would seek to reduce imports of finished steel from the present 25.6 percent to 18.5 percent, as a way of protecting domestic producers from unfair, below-cost competition.

The U.S. also is trying to restrict semi-finished slab imports to 1,700,000 tons a year, for an overall steel import limit of 20.2 percent of the U.S. market.

GC aldermen okay traffic ordinance

Granite City aldermen passed an ordinance Tuesday night which will prohibit parking on either side of Fehling Road. The parking restrictions are from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

The ordinance was brought in on the request of Alderman Sharon Perjak, who asked council members last week, to consider extending the "no parking" zone on the road. She said she is concerned about the safety of the students and other motorists who drive by the school, since parking on the road obstructs the vision and causes a hazard for some drivers.

Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman, a school official, agreed that parking is a problem at the high school. Schuman brought in an ordinance last month which partially restricted the parking on Fehling Road.

In other council action, members approved an ordinance which designates a stop intersection at Briarview and Briarmore lanes. The stop sign will govern eastbound traffic on Briarview Lane.

The fine for violation of the stop sign is between $10 and $25.

Police to update night contact list

Granite City business firms, churches and fraternal or veterans' organizations with buildings are being urged to provide updated information on persons to be contacted during non-operating hours.

Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer is requesting business owners or managers to complete and return the adjacent questionnaire to the police department.

Some problems recently have surfaced in establishing contact with the appropriate persons when police are called to check a business or other type of structure for possible intruders, the police chief said.

Unsecured doors and windows often require that officers alert some authorized person of such a security problem.

On occasion, police learn that the ownership of a firm has changed or a previously authorized employee is no longer with a store or organization.

A police dispatcher sometimes may discover also that a telephone number now listed with the department has been altered to a non-published number, causing a delay in reaching the person in charge.

Such a lack of up-to-date information results in unnecessary delay in making the proper contact in the event of an emergency, Veizer explained.

The department currently is updating its Rolodex system of night contacts and alarm-emergency cards and seeks the cooperation of the business community to complete the process.

Information in the questionnaire is confidential and is utilized only in an emergency situation, Chief Veizer stressed.

NOW YOU CAN HAVE A RETIREMENT PLAN THAT'S BETTER THAN THE GOVERNMENT'S.

By the time you retire, if you have to depend on Social Security alone, your golden years are not going to be very colorful.

But now you can start your own retirement plan where you bank; even if you're already covered by another retirement plan where you work. It's called an Individual Retirement Account, or IRA, and it's available to just about everybody who works.

Each year, you can contribute a tax-deductible portion of your income to the plan, and we'll pay you interest.

The best part is that even the interest is not taxable until you retire (when you're likely to be in a much lower tax bracket) or until you withdraw funds from your account.

So come by to see us soon, and get all the details on our IRA. Because helping you plan for the future is a part of our commitment to excellence in everything we do.

And we think it makes more sense for you to put your hard-earned money in an IRA than give it to the IRS.

Special education is part of amended levy

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

A public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 19 at 20th and Adams streets will focus on added flexibility in the funding of special education.

No overall tax rate increase is proposed in Granite City School District Nine, provision for tort immunity (cost of defending against lawsuits) is being decreased.

CHIEF REASON for the change is to provide more latitude in use of education funds, Finance Director Norman Owca told the Board of Education last week.

Compared to a 1983 school tax levy of $8,732,708 for all departments, the board on Sept. 25 enacted an amended 1984 levy of $9,533,531 at a potential rate of $3.4107 on each $100 of real estate assessment.

The newest districtwide figures are $9,845,500 and a $3.3550 rate.

A 12.74 PERCENT rise in the 1984 levy over 1983 is now foreseen, Owca said. A copy of the latest levy proposal is on display from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays. It was announced by Board Secretary Alan R. Cridler.

September and December levy breakdowns show: education $7,127,295 raised to $7,395,000; building $1,048,224 increased to $1,087,500; transportation $335,451 boosted to $348,000; Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund $205,774 cut to $203,000.

Also, Illinois Life Safety Code remodeling $139,763 raised to $145,000; working cash fund $139,763 increased to $145,000; tort immunity $538,927 reduced to $406,000, and a separate levy for special education, none on Sept. 25, to be raised to $116,000 Dec. 18.

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT that the assessment base may expand next year, Owca recommended slightly different levy fund totals while remaining within the same revenue framework.

He told the board, "At the Nov. 13 meeting, you approved a restructuring of rates, reducing the Retirement Fund, restoring a working cash rate and increasing the allocation for tort immunity."

"Since that time, after much review of our financial condition and a potential uptrend in valuation, I am proposing further changes."

"THE RATIONALE for the new changes is the need for education fund money that is not as restricted."

AUTO BREAK-INS AT AT WILSON PARK LOT

Chiff Winger of Brighton, Ill., reported at 2 a.m. Sunday that someone got inside his auto and stole $30 and keys from the purse of a woman friend and also took the keys from the car radio while the vehicle was parked in the Wilson Park ice rink lot.

At the same time, Scott Kelly of Brighton, reported a power booster worth $40 was stolen from his auto while parked at the same location.

INVESTIGATION GOES ON

Granite City police are investigating a report received at 9:10 p.m. Sunday from James and Carolyn Cain of the 2200 block of Grand Avenue, who alleged being assaulted and battered by two persons. The incident occurred the previous night near 22nd Street and the railroad tracks, the couple told officers.

DAMAGE IS ALLEGED

Wade B. Whitford, 23, of 2404 Dewey Ave., was arrested at 5:40 a.m. today at an apartment in the 3500 block of Kirkpatrick Homes and charged with criminal damage to property. It was alleged he was yelling and beating on a storm window demanding entry, which resulted in the window being broken.

STEAL $235 CASH

Christina West, 3809 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported at 10:50 p.m. Sunday that $235 was stolen from a wallet at her home.

Robber takes cash and food stamps from shop

A man displaying a handgun entered Kurtis Confectionery, 89 Weaver Ave., Venice, at 4:15 p.m. Sunday and robbed an employee of $100 cash and an undetermined amount of food stamps.

William Thompson, who was working at the time, said the man entered the shop and waited until he was the only patron, before robbing him.

Thompson described the suspect as a black man in his early 20s, he could not remember what the man was wearing.

Heldtman Steel

cess only hot-rolled coils, leaving all demand for cold-rolled and galvanized steel with Granite City Steel.

Heldtman is headquartered in Toledo, Ohio, and the decision was made to move to this area to get closer to the growing southern markets. "We knew a long time ago we had to move down this way because the economic base was moving this way."

WITH THIS central location, "We have the tools for the quality and on-time delivery to our customers in one day, three days, a week—whatever is required," commented Tom Spalding, president of Heldtman's Bedford Division, who was on hand for Friday's tour.

"We plan on being here a long time and to be successful," Spalding added.

Clean steel from here is trucked throughout the Midwest and elsewhere, he noted. With the recession ending, markets for Heldtman's product continue to grow.

GRANITE CITY has been very warm and receptive to Heldtman, Calhoun said. He noted that the city issued up to $10 million in industrial revenue bonds to help build and equip the plant and numerous city officials have "bent over backward" to attract the industry here.

Calhoun presented a plaque to Alderman Paul Ray Bowler in appreciation for all his work laying the groundwork for Heldtman's move here.

Operations began in June 1983 in the former Commonwealth building while the new plant was constructed. Only the slitter was in operation then.

IN JANUARY of this year, the slitter was moved to its present location and Oct. 17 the new pickle line opened.

Major expansion is not expected for at least three years, Calhoun said. The first expansion is likely to be a second slitter. The company has additional property available, however, should it be necessary to expand the building for other purposes in the future.

Calhoun thanked the city officials and all residents of the Quad-City area for their welcome. "The community met us with very open arms. From the mill to the car wash, people said 'Welcome to Granite City.' We feel very welcome," Calhoun concluded.

Legislators critical of the press

 Some harsh words for the performance of the press in Illinois were expressed by two state officials as the Illinois Press Association (IPA) hosted regional senators and representatives in Collinsville for a luncheon Thursday.

State Sen. Kenneth Hall from East St. Louis pinpointed adverse press coverage everytime the legislature votes itself a pay raise, saying that the press does not mind when raises are given in private business and industry, but makes a "big deal" out of it each time a pay raise for legislators is discussed.

State Sen. Sam Vadalabene, an Edwardsville Democrat, agreed, saying that a raise of 4½ percent is all that is involved. "I don't think that's too much," Vadalabene said.

The IPA's intent for the luncheon was to discuss press concerns for the coming legislative session, including some much-needed revisions of the Freedom of Information (FOI) act, which is being used by many public officials to delay or withhold information, rather than to release it. State Rep. Monroe Filipp (D-Cahokia) contended the IPA is asking legislators to put their necks on the line. "If I introduced a motion to repeal the Freedom of Information Act, what kind of press coverage do you suppose I would receive?" he asked, adding that he believes many newspapers would be highly critical of the action.

Dave West, who is in charge of the IPA office in Springfield, said the press group does not attempt to dictate editorial policy to its member newspapers, but tries to lobby for a climate which allows newspapers to remain able to cover the news and establish its own editorial policies.

Sen. Hall contended that newspapers should "get their own house in order," before asking legislators for favors.

Editors present responded that it is not the role of the press association to attempt to dictate to independent newspapers what their editorial opinions or policies should be. A variety of opinions in newspapers is healthy for society, they contended.

Legislative changes proposed by the IPA, in addition to reform of the Freedom of Information Act, included defeat of any legislation limiting the use of video display terminals, standardizing the charges for tax assessment lists, clarifying requirements for legal publication of financial statements, sample ballots, deputy registrar lists, ordinances and annual financial statements from county treasurers.

Bi-State opens new bus garage in East St. Louis

The Bi-State Transit Division of the Bi-State Development Agency marked the official opening of its Illinois Station Garage with a grand opening ceremony Friday at the new facility, 801 N. 47th St. in East St. Louis. Local, state and federal dignitaries participated in the dedication ceremonies.

Manuel De La O, executive director of Bi-State said, "Today's opening allows the closing of the old East St. Louis Garage and before that, the Belleville Garage. The Illinois Station Garage is large enough to consolidate under one roof all the buses, equipment and people needed to provide bus service for our complete Illinois area." The old facilities were inadequate to provide today's required level of maintenance and repair for the 150 buses that are dispatched from that site.

Situated on 15 acres at 47th and St. Clair streets in East St. Louis, the new facility contains 287,255 square feet of workspace. It is designed to provide indoor bus parking, daily bus servicing, areas for bus maintenance and inspection and an operations center.

The Illinois Station Garage is the third new facility opening under Bi-State's Garage Replacement Program. A new main repair facility in the city of St. Louis and a new station garage in Brentwood were completed in fiscal year 1984. A new DeBaliere Station Garage also has begun.

Carl Mathias of Granite City, Bi-State board chairman, said, "We are building these new facilities not only because the old ones were becoming unsuitable for use, but in anticipation of future increased demands for public transportation. And bus riders will be the ones who benefit most, because we will be able to provide better maintained and more comfortable buses."

The original construction budget for the new Illinois Station Garage was $16.5 million. The actual cost of construction is estimated to be $14.7, according to Mathias. Funding was provided by both the Urban Mass Transportation Administration and the Illinois Department of Transportation, with UMTA providing 80 percent and IDOT, 20 percent.

SOME TALL TALES ABOUT ELECTRIC HEAT PUMPS WOULD MAKE PAUL BUNYAN BLUSH

American Folklore is full of tall tales, and Paul Bunyan, the legendary lumberjack, was one of the tallest. But lately we've heard some stories that would even challenge old Paul's credulity.

There's a rumor going around that electric heat pumps are inefficient and expensive to operate in Illinois. It's time to chop down that fairy tale right at the stump.

The truth is an electric heat pump is the most energy-efficient heating system you can buy.

No exceptions.

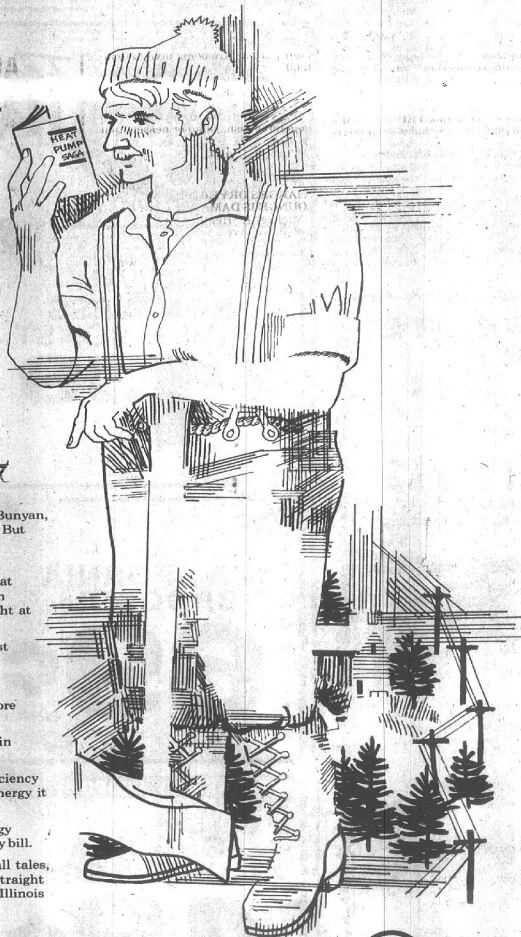

It's the only system that actually provides more energy than it consumes.

That's why so many smart people right here in Illinois have chosen electric heat.

Take a look at the numbers. Even a high efficiency gas furnace will only deliver about 95% of the energy it uses in the form of useful heat.

But an electric heat pump is over 150% energy efficient! That adds up to real savings on your utility bill.

If hard facts make more sense to you than tall tales, you'll want to talk to someone who has all the straight answers—the Residential Marketing Advisor at Illinois Power Company.

YMCA plans overnight for 80 youths

The Tri-City Area YMCA will host a youth overnight from 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 14, until 8 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 15. Any boy or girl ages 6 through 12 is invited to attend. There will only be 80 openings available and participants must sign up before 10 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 13. Reservations will be given on a first-come, first-served basis at a cost of $4 per child.

Ramona Schmidt will coordinate the event. The gymnasium, game room, racquetball area and pool will be open for the evening activities. A snack will be served later in the evening. All boys and girls should wear comfortable clothing and soft sole shoes.

Each participant must bring a swimming suit, towel, swim cap, sleeping bag, pillow and pajamas. Parents will be expected to arrive at the YMCA to pick up their children by 8 a.m. Saturday.

Adoption certificates available for area dolls

With the Cabbage Patch craze again in full swing, many concerned parents are seeking other avenues to satisfy their children's holiday wishes. Those soft sculptured dolls, which come with their own adoption papers, are few in number, and area stores are finding it difficult to meet consumer demands.

Several pediatricians and family practitioners on staff at St. Elizabeth Medical Center have devised what they believe is a simple solution to a big problem. During regular hours, "Adopt-A-Doll" certificates will be available to area residents.

"With this adoption program," said Dr. Richard J. Iken, a pediatrician, "children cannot only have adoption certificates for the new dolls, but for their old ones as well." The physicians will begin distributing adoption certificates on Thursday, Dec. 13, and will continue through Friday, Jan. 4.

All certificates are signed by the attending physician and Sister Mary Thomas, SEMC president, and are suitable for framing. Those physicians participating in this program are Dr. Tipu Sultan, Dr. Reza Ashraf, Dr. Shaifque Ahmad (pediatricians) and Dr. Gerald Baggot, Dr. A. Khan, and Dr. Melvin Freedman (family practitioners).

CANNABIS POSSESSION ALLEGED AGAINST MAN

Officers alleged Green had a bag holding 11 cannabis cigarettes and two smaller bags also containing cannabis in his coat pocket at the time. Two other men in the car were released without charges.

Green was freed upon posting a $22 cash bond, pending a hearing.

TAKING THE OATH. Don Garrett of Madison, left, and Herbert "Junior" Milton of Granite City take the oath of office Monday morning during the first meeting of the Madison County Board to hold a seat on the board. Garrett elected for the first time to the board in November, is the first black to hold a seat on the board. Milton won re-election on Nov. 6, having already served on the board for 12 years.

Officials sworn in to Madison County posts

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

Sweating-in ceremonies Monday marked the beginning of new terms for newly-elected and re-elected Madison County officials. In addition, Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City was re-elected by fellow county board members to his eighth two-year term as county board chairman.

County officials taking the oath of office Monday were State's Attorney Richard Allen of Granite City, Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell, County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields, Recorder of Deeds Ronald "Rink" Lucas, Coroner Dallas Burke, Circuit Judge William E. Johnson and various members of the Madison County Board.

ALLEN DEFEATED former State's Attorney Don Weber in the Nov. 6 election. Portell, Fields, Lucas and Mrs. Burke also were re-elected to their posts. County voters elected to retain Johnson as a circuit judge.

Following his oath of office, Allen commented to the audience, "I guess during the next four years, we don't know what we're going to talk about," alluding to the publicity that has surrounded the state's attorney's office during Weber's tenure. "I promise you I will do the very best job I can. I'll be fair, but at the same time, I'll be keeping a very low profile, so hopefully, the papers will have to write about something else."

Allen also thanked his supporters, noting that he received 97 percent of the vote in Venice Township.

JOHNSON ALSO thanked his "35,000 friends and the 25,000 who were misinformed." Johnson was sworn in by Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols, the first black to swear in an elected county official. Johnson noted the support he received from Venice Township, but added, "Our distant cousins in Venice and Highland are not getting the service they should get. I'm going to do something about it."

Following those swearing-in ceremonies, the Madison County Board met to swear in board members who were beginning new terms. Among those taking oaths of office were Don Garrett of Madison, a new member, and Herbert Milton Jr. of Granite City and Frank Dutko of Madison, both re-elected to their offices.

Hagnauer was the only one nominated for the position of board chairman, and he was re-elected to the post by a unanimous vote.

IN MAKING the nomination, Board Member William Haine of Alton said the position of chairman, "in the last few years under the tenure of Nelson Hagnauer, has become the pivot of county government."

Haine added that Hagnauer has a "keen knowledge of county government" and that he has exercised "openness, cooperation and a consistent treatment of elected officials with decency and respect."

Hagnauer told the board members after his re-election, "My door has always been open, and it's still open. I respect every one of you, although I might not always agree with you."

ALSO RE-ELECTED was the county board vice chairman, Morris Miles of Chouteau Township. Other newly-elected board members seated Monday were Herschel Beane of Godfrey, Robert Stille of Edwardsville and Daniel Donohoe of Wood River.

In other action Monday, Hagnauer named board members to standing committees for the new fiscal year, Nov. 30, 1984, to Dec. 1, 1985. Area board members were appointed to the following committees:

Nelson Hagnauer—chairman of the executive committee and chairman of the grants committee.

Nick Hamilos—tax cycle committee, animal health committee, chairman of the education committee, executive committee and sewer committee.

Donald C. Rea—environmental control committee, highway committee and sewer committee.

Frank Dutko—chairman of the license committee, personnel committee, right of way committee, executive committee and sewer committee.

Don Garrett—land use committee, education committee and sewer committee.

Herbert Milton Jr.—chairman of the tax committee, census committee, executive committee and grants committee.

Vasil Eftimoff—chairman of the health institutions committee, chairman of the highway committee and executive committee.

Morris Miles—health institutions committee, personnel committee, executive committee and chairman of the sewer committee.

Madison schools receive excellent Chapter I rating

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

Madison Schools Assistant Superintendent Wade James told the school board Thursday night that state officials visited the district last week and gave the district's Chapter I program an excellent rating.

The Chapter I program, financed through federal grants, is an effort to enhance reading and math skills of grade-school students living in low-income areas.

James said he expects a written report from the Compensatory Education Section of the Illinois State Board of Education will verify the excellent rating given the district by state officials.

Following James' comments, board members adopted a Chapter I Complaint Procedure, a requirement of schools receiving Chapter I funds.

In other business Thursday night, the board gave James permission to solicit bids for video equipment for the high school. James said the high school will receive some additional federal monies, which can be used to purchase the equipment, estimated to cost approximately $2,000.

The high school is requesting a portable color video camera, a 19-inch color TV receiver, a 19-inch color monitor, a half-inch portable video cassette recorder and an AC adapter-charger.

James told the board that the equipment will be used for classroom study, athletics and other activities. It is to be stored in a storage room near the library, and the equipment is to be checked out through the librarian "on a daily basis of first-come priority."

Board Member Billie Bosworth, acting as president in the absence of Paul Bargiel, opened the only bid received for demolition of the old Dunbar School Annex, which is located behind the Dunbar school building at Third and Jackson streets. A bid of $9,650 was received from LTD Contracting of Cahokia.

Mrs. Bosworth and other board members expressed disappointment that only one bid for the work was received. Mrs. Bosworth indicated that the bid amount was more than she had expected.

The board voted to place the bid on file and consider it at another time. A committee of board members that studied the annex last summer concluded that the structure was a "disgrace" and should be razed.

School Superintendent John Palchek informed the board that the district had received a check for $1,500 from the Family Service and Visiting Nurses Association for allowing the agency to store equipment at Dunbar School from July to November.

In other action, the board approved the hiring of Mark Jiles as an assistant coach for the girls basketball team. Palchek said Jiles held the position last year, and that his salary will be prorated for the rest of the year.

The board accepted a leave-of-absence request from teacher Margaret Rehagen, who, due to illness, will leave Dec. 14 and return next August.

Board members also gave permission to the Junior Prom Committee and the Madison Chapter of Future Secretaries' Association to sell candy as fund-raising projects, and gave permission to administrators to attend the Madison County Administrators' Association dinner on Dec. 19 in East Alton.

A working agreement between the school district and Coordinated Youth Services on curriculum planning and training on the prevention of child sexual abuse was approved.

Palchek told board members that the graduating classes of 1925 through 1928 had donated five Illinois state flags to the school district.

TAX AMNESTY—The Illinois Tax Amnesty Program reached $127.5 million Thursday in back taxes from 17,000 amnesty applicants and the total is still growing. Last-minute filers, including some large corporations, paid millions of dollars each, boosting total amnesty to this unprecedented level. The state's two-month tax amnesty program attracted applicants from 44 states, the District of Columbia and about 12 foreign countries.

TRAFFIC DEATHS—Illinois traffic fatalities during November totaled 94, a decrease of 23 percent from the same month in 1983, according to provisional figures released by the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Illinois State Police. The provisional total of 1,414 fatalities through 11 months of 1984 is a decrease of 0.5 percent from the same period of 1983. There were two deaths from traffic accidents in Madison County during November, bringing the county's fatality total for the year to 51.

CAUTION WITH TOYS—In the United States, during 1983, nearly 600,000 children under the age of 15 were treated in hospital emergency rooms for injuries associated with toys, bicycles and other children's items. During the same period 16 children died in toy-related accidents. "Most of these injuries and deaths occurred because of a child's inability to deal with the nature of a toy, rather than because of any problem with the toy itself," said Thomas Kirkpatrick, Jr., acting director of the Illinois Department of Public Health. Kirkpatrick therefore urges adults to select toys that suit the age, skills, abilities and interests of the individual child.

WASHINGTON OFFICE—Galen Reser, the director of legislation and projects for U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy, has been named by Governor Thompson to head the State of Illinois Office in Washington, D.C. Reser, 34, will take over duties in the Washington Office beginning Jan. 3, 1985, making $55,000 a year.

CASH CROP—The Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) has concluded the Illinois Marijuana Eradication Program, "Operation Cash Crop-1984." In 1984, 68,048 plants, valued at approximately $50.5 million were seized by DCI, the State Police and local authorities. Additionally, private landowners, working in cooperation with the division, destroyed more than 297,000 wild marijuana plants. The value of plants seized or destroyed reached $140 million, far exceeding the total attained during the 1983 season.

CIRCUIT BREAKER—New Year's Eve is the deadline to apply for Circuit Breaker tax relief grants for the 1983 claim year, according to Illinois Director of Revenue J. Thomas Johnson. Illinois residents are eligible for Circuit Breaker tax rebates if they are at least 65 years of age with household incomes less than $12,000, or are at least 16 years old and totally disabled according to criteria established by the Social Security Administration.

CRIME VICTIMS—Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan last week announced that public and private not-for-profit agencies may apply to the Attorney General's Office for funding and designation as crime victim and witness centers. Funding for the centers would be provided by the Violent Crime Victims Assistance Fund, which currently totals more than $600,000 and comes entirely from fines imposed on those convicted of all felonies and many misdemeanors.

MADISON BUSINESS EVENT—The Madison Business Association will meet at 8 a.m. Tuesday at the Madison Recreation Center. All Madison businessmen and businesswomen are being encouraged to attend.

Gift idea: tickets to Gigi, La Cage aux Folles

As a special service for those looking for a different idea in Christmas gifts, The Munny is making single tickets available for two of its top winter attractions, well in advance of their coming to St. Louis. They are "Gigi," the Lerner and Loewe hit set for Jan. 15 to 20 at the Fox Theatre, and "La Cage aux Folles," winner of six Tony Awards last season, to be presented April 16 to 21 at the Fox.

"Theatre tickets always make nice Christmas gifts," Munny President Bill Culver said, "but ordinarily we wouldn't be making single tickets available for these shows until two or three weeks ahead. We thought, though, that these two shows in particular would make attractive Christmas gift items, especially for those who enjoy musicals."

Price range of tickets to both shows is the same — $13.50 to $28.50, depending upon location and day and time of performance — and are available at all the usual Munny ticket locations.

"Gigi" will star Louis Jourdan, Betsy Palmer, Taina Elig, Tom Hewitt and Lisa Howard.

Co-stars of "La Cage aux Folles" will be Peter Marshall and Keene Curtis.

Performance days for both shows are Tuesday through Sunday. Performance times are 8 p.m., except Sunday, when they are 7 p.m. There are matinees on both Saturdays and Sundays of both shows at 2 p.m.

Dennis Ishum, 2244 Benton St., reported to local police Thursday afternoon he was robbed of his wallet, coat and auto by a hitchhiker whom he picked up the previous evening in the 2400 block of Madison Avenue.

The robber was about 27 years old, 5-10 in height, 170 pounds, wearing blue jeans and a blue jacket. He had dark hair and a moustache.

Ishum was southbound and agreed to take the man to Madison. But after the car had traveled several blocks, the passenger displayed a handgun and ordered that he be driven to East St. Louis.

On St. Clair Avenue in that city, the robber demanded to be let. When Ishum hesitated, he was struck several times with the gun, suffering lacerations near the right eye and on the right side of the head.

After his wallet and coat were taken, Ishum was forced out of his blue 1974 Ford Maverick two-door auto and it was driven away. He walked to a stockyard area, where a guard alerted police. Ishum was treated at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

School board accepts two resignations

The Granite City Board of Education accepted two resignations and hired a cafeteria worker at last week's regular meeting.

Mrs. Estelle Schermer Massie, a 10th grade teacher, announced plans to retire June 2, 1985. Her retirement date was approved by the board.

She commented, "To say that my years as a teacher have been wonderful is truly an understatement. They have brought me so much joy and fulfillment that I only hope I have been able to return as much to the children I have taught."

Modena Mann, a Grigsby Junior High School cafeteria employee, 1984 to retire June 13, 1986.

Quad-City area schools may receive several hundred thousand dollars in bonus funds due to the state tax amnesty program, which has brought in $127.5 million, a figure that could grow. The first $20 million was appropriated for schools in June. Of the added $107.5 million, $72.5 million is expected to go to schools and $35 million to municipal and county governments as their share of sales and corporate personal property tax replacement collections.

THEFT CHARGES FILED AGAINST VENICE WOMEN—Dorese Anderson, 31, of 83 Venice Homes, and Mary L. Young, 28, of 65 Venice Homes, were each booked on charges of misdemeanor theft (by possession) after an auto was stopped by officers on Madison Avenue at 21st Street last week.

A security guard at Reese Drug Store in Bellemeade Village Shopping Center first alerted police about one of the women. Several items from the store, including a doll, a baby shirt, socks and a walkie-talkie set, with an estimated value of $43, allegedly were found in the car.

Also in the vehicle was some children's clothing with K-Mart store price tags, amounting to $77, and other items from a General Dollar Store worth $38.

Both women were released after each posted a $102 cash bond.

Red Devils Win In OT

Venice topples Madison; remains undefeated

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

VENICE — The lesson learned by the Madison Trojans Saturday night could have made a perfect sermon Sunday morning: just when you think you've triumphed, the devil is going to get you.

Pitchfork and all.

The Venice Red Devils converted an 11-point deficit late in the fourth quarter into a 74-72 overtime victory Saturday night. Their last-minute efforts brought cheers from the jam-packed gymnasium and praise from Venice coach Clinton Harris.

"WE'RE NOT going to back away from anybody," boasted Harris in the winning locker room. "I knew we were going to be a tough ballgame all the way. I knew they would have the lead and we would have the lead."

"Good conditioning played a big part for us. We've been working on it ever since the first day of practice. But defense is really what won the game for us."

The Red Devils came out red hot, pleasing the hometown fans with a 10-2 lead. But Madison woke up and quickly worked its way back to a 14-12 lead, a lead which they never lost until the final quarter.

THE TURNING point for Venice came during a timeout with 4:42 remaining in the fourth quarter. Madison's Anthony Valentine had just sunk a shot to give the Trojans a 65-54 lead, the largest point spread in the contest.

"What are you going to do, lay down and die?" Harris asked his players. "Now let's go out and play some aggressive defense."

The now-or-never speech evidently gave the Red Devils the spark they needed. Venice literally shut down Madison, as the Trojans failed to score another basket for the remainder of the quarter.

THE RED DEVILS' offense provided the excitement, sinking six baskets to capture a 65-54 lead with seven seconds left on the clock.

Charles Milton scored that sixth goal, which put Venice on top for the first time since a 12-10 lead in the first quarter. Milton snatched a rebound from a missed free throw by Madison's James Bennett and dunked downcourt and shot a jumper near the free-throw line for the two points.

The Venice gymnasium erupted, as Madison quickly called timeout to regroup. The Trojans got the break they needed when play resumed when Venice's Milton was whistled for a foul, his fifth of the night.

WITH TWO seconds remaining, James Bennett was sent to the charity stripe for a one-and-one. The first free throw went in the hoop to tie the game at 66-66, sending the Madison fans into hysteria. But the second toss bounced off the rim and put the game into overtime.

"You can't go 12 for 24 at the free-throw line in a game like this," lamented Madison coach Rodney Watson. "We missed three front-ends in the fourth quarter alone."

Venice's Darren Wise set the tempo in the overtime, grabbing rebounds during Venice's first two possessions and putting them back in for four important points. Wise, who was on the bench earlier in the game, gave the Red Devils a 70-68 lead.

"DARREN (Wise) hasn't been starting the last two games," said Harris. "But tonight he came in, got two good rebounds and put them in the hole. That really picked us up."

The Red Devils never relinquished the lead. They upped the margin to 74-70 when Damon Harris and Ed Ware both connected on the first shot of one-and-one free throws, but failed to put it in the second.

Bennett later picked off a pass by Vincent Harris and drove downcourt for a Madison bucket to narrow the score at 74-72 with 10 seconds remaining. The Trojans had a golden opportunity when Venice's Harris couldn't handle a pass from Ware and the ball rolled out of bounds.

BUT SECONDS later, Madison returned the favor. Bennett lost a base-line pass, which bounced off the senior's hands and into a wall. Venice wasted the final four seconds on the clock before the Red Devils' fans rushed the court for their celebration.

"We're little, but we're an aggressive team," said Harris. "Even if we play against a 7-footer, we'd still be tough."

The Madison Trojans did that the previous night, defeating Belleville East and their 7-foot center Gary Leonard. Watson explained why the Trojans couldn't overcome the pesky Red Devils, who have no one over 6-foot-3.

"YOU'VE GOT to give them credit; they are just really shooting the ball super," said Watson. "The guards against East weren't as aggressive."

These guys put more pressure on the ball."

That pressure was something Madison couldn't handle during the final 4:42, when the Trojans lost the ball six times and saw their 11-point lead disappear.

"We just became too passive," said Watson. "They (Venice) hustled to create the turnovers. But we made a few bad passes and it turned the tempo around."

Watson tried settling his players down, but said he had no power to reverse the poor play on the court.

"I can't go out and dribble it for them," said Watson. "They know what to do. And eventually they will do it."

"I'm just happy that this wasn't the last game of the year or the regionals or the sectionals. We've still got plenty of time to improve."

Harris, meanwhile, must be proud of where his team is. The win upped the Red Devils to 4-0 for the season, which Harris sees as a tribute to his players.

"Jesse Hall and (Charles) Milton are the only two players who have really good talent," said Harris. "The rest just work hard and improve with every game — Ed (Ware), Victor (Jackson), Darren (Wise), all of them."

"MY WHOLE team consists of guards. My tallest man is 6-2. But they're guards that play like big men."

All five starters for Venice made it to double figures, with Jackson scoring a team high of 16. Madison had three men in double figures, as Reggie Banks was the game's top scorer with 23.

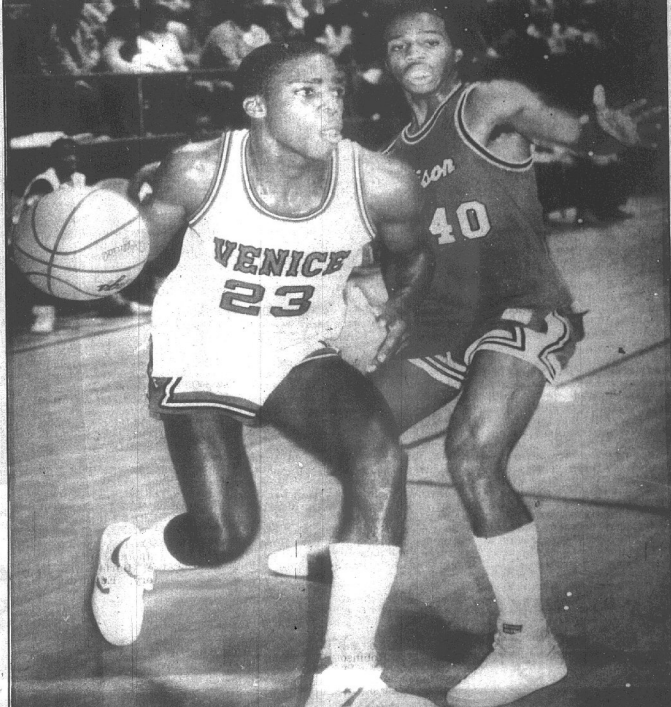

"This is the game no one took for granted," said Watson, whose team dropped to 3-2. "This is the one the players really wanted."

Beware of the devil, who will spring at any instant and sweep away your triumph. Amen.

In Basketball Saturday Warriors down West for first SWC victory

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — In squeaking by the Belleville West Warriors Saturday night at Memorial Gymnasium, 56-54, the Warriors of Granite City wrote a page of history for themselves. For their coach, Don Deterding, they turned a few pages back.

The victory marked the Warriors' return to the Southwestern Conference, a league they had left years ago. For present day students who remember only when the Warriors were members of the Gateway East Conference, the game might not have seemed that much different. The Warriors' "Wardrobers" graced the scene, male students who dressed exotically in costumes that looked as if they were last worn in a bad "B" movie.

ALAS, some came adorned in scuba diver outfits and one student arrived inside a Busch beer barrel. For two students, it wasn't so much the "stylish" business suits they appeared in but the flash they held in the air that probably warranted the ovation given them.

Then, however, the "Wardrobers" also made their presence felt last year.

Why, heck, the gymnasium was even decorated with banners representing teams from the old Gateway East Conference. They need to be taken down.

Whatever the appearances, the victory was a bona fide Southwestern Conference triumph. Let the bells ring.

DETERRING was listening, in raptured ecstasy one might add. Deterring, you see, coached the Warriors when they last played in the Southwestern Conference. He guided the Warriors to an SWC title a year before they left the league. As a high schooler, Deterding also played in

According to Madison coach Rodney Watson, those center jumps were an important part of the contest.

On Friday Trojans cut Lancers to size

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE — The Madison Trojans were first out of the starting blocks on Friday night against Belleville East, as they outdistanced the Lancers 58-50.

In the early going, Madison sprinted to an 11-2 lead. Capitalizing on Lancer turnovers, the Trojans scored most of their points inside, despite the presence of Belleville's 7-foot center Gary Leonard. Madison took advantage of East's man-to-man defense and pulled the big post man away from the hoop, neutralizing the Lancers' superior height.

Watson said.

ACTUALLY, the Trojans got the ball after three of the four center jumps. Belleville miscalculated the fourth quarter tip with Leonard sitting on the bench.

The Trojans scored first in each quarter they received the tip, but Watson expressed concern about the Madison offense.

"We've been struggling. We get out of our offense. We score a lot of points, but not the way we want to," said the Trojan coach. "We have to score off of a set play once in a while."

STRUGGLING or not, Madison built a 10-point lead at the beginning of the third period, only to see their cushion shrink to a single bucket at the 3:22 mark.

Then, the Trojans began their kick. DeLloyd Williams' 18-footer from the right wing got Madison back in stride, as the Trojans ran off eight unanswered points to inflate their lead back to 10, at 46-36.

With 5:20 remaining, the Lancers trimmed the deficit to four points. But James Bennett popped in a short jumper, and Reggie Young added two more baskets, to put the Trojans out of danger.

MANY TIMES it was the Madison defense that created those scoring opportunities. Forcing turnovers and keeping the ball away from Leonard, the Trojans dictated the style of play.

"The defense sets the tempo," Watson said. "Our kids came to play. Banks, Bennett and Nathan Young did a tremendous job on Leonard. They worked their tails off. I'm really pleased with the effort."

"It was our defensive tempo, our guard play, and our defensive effort on Leonard that won the game for us."

Then, the Trojans began their kick. DeLloyd Williams' 18-footer from the right wing got Madison back in stride, as the Trojans ran off eight unanswered points to inflate their lead back to 10, at 46-36.

With 5:20 remaining, the Lancers trimmed the deficit to four points. But James Bennett popped in a short jumper, and Reggie Young added two more baskets, to put the Trojans out of danger.

STRUGGLING or not, Madison built a 10-point lead at the beginning of the third period, only to see their cushion shrink to a single bucket at the 3:22 mark.

GCHS wins despite injuries; pounds Panthers

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

GRANITE CITY — So far this season is looking a lot like last year's for Warrior wrestling Coach Bill Schmitt and his grapplers. But along with that similarity there's a difference. A difference that Schmitt couldn't be happier about.

"Injuries," Schmitt said Friday after his matmen defeated the visiting Jerseyville Panthers 44-15 in the gymnasium annex. "I honestly don't know when they're (injuries) going to stop. It's the same thing as last year all over again. It's early in the season and they (the injuries) haven't really come in the tough workouts."

So much for the similarity. Now the difference.

"But," Schmitt continued to say, "I can't be anything but happy with the way they wrestled here tonight. I'm very well pleased, especially considering the way they (Jerseyville) finished against Roxana." Schmitt said, Jerseyville won 2-3 on the season, lost a championship to Roxana earlier this season. Roxana, last year's regional winner, is a favorite to win the title again this year.

ESSENTIALLY, the injury-plagued Warriors resemble to last year's squad stops with the injuries. Both squads were and are riddled with injuries, but the difference this year is that the Warriors continue to win anyway.

Sidelined because of injuries are four Warriors, three seniors and team leaders: Vince Slicka, 126 pounds, shoulder; Mark Whitaker, 145 pound, shoulder, and Steve Knogl, 167 pound, dislocated elbow. Steve's younger brother, Dave, a sophomore, is also suffering with a dislocated elbow.

AFTER Friday's lopsided victory over the Panthers, the Warriors are 7-0. That's right, seven a BIG zero.

The Warriors got off to a big start Friday night when not-so-big, 98-pound senior Cody had his way with the Panther's James Hillis. Cody, a state qualifier last year, did everything but pin his Panther opponent, eventually winning 19-0 to give the Warriors a 5-0 lead they never relinquished.

Through 105 pounds and all the way to 126 pounds — the first five weight divisions — the Warriors were flawless in their pounding and pinning of the Panthers.

DARRIN Singleton (105 pounds), Richey Wilson (112 pounds), Tracy Morrison (119 pounds) and Jeff Wakeford (126 pounds) each picked up victories before the Warriors suffered their first loss.

That first loss came at 132 pounds when Calvin Barton was pinned by Jerseyville's Ted Critchfield, one of the highest regarded wrestlers in the area, according to Schmitt.

"I tried to do a little readjusting there (at 132 pounds)," Schmitt said. "It didn't work and I ended up eating crow, but it didn't hurt us too bad. We were still able to come back and wrestle well."

SCHMITT'S reason for readjusting the lineup were the injuries to Slicka and Whitaker. The reshuffled lineup may have cost the Warriors two victories, but the outcome of those pairings was moot because of the large Warrior lead.

Barton was pinned in his 132-pound match with Critchfield and Mike Lewis lost a decision to Jerseyville's Chad Price.

Tom Sparks put the Warriors back on a winning track when he pinned Harvey Burg in 1:33.

Sparks, a state qualifier as a sophomore last year, fell behind Burg early 4-1. The heavy Warrior came back to score a takedown with 38 seconds remaining in the first period before eventually using a Kelly to put Burg to the mat for the pin.

GRANITE CITY swept the next three weight classes — 155, 167 and 185 before Daron Griffin dropped his unlimited match to Eric Simon.

At 155, Mike Fenoglio overcame an eye injury caused by the snap on headgear to decision Rob Lahey 8-2.

At 167 pounds, Darrin Clutta improved the Warrior lead to 40-9 with his pin of Jerseyville's Brian Rudolph.

The Warriors picked up their final victory of the evening as Tracy McElroy, looking leaner and stronger than last year, decisioned Scott Youngblood 14-3 in the 185-pound matchup.

The Warriors have today off before heading to Collinsville Tuesday for a scheduled quadrangular matchup with the Kahoks, Triad and Roxana. A Southwestern Conference matchup with the Kahoks, the Warriors may only wrestle the Kahoks in favor of waiting for Roxana and Triad later. The match in Collinsville begins at 6:30 p.m.

WIN BY FALL. Granite City High School's Jeff Wakeford, 126 pounds, put the move on Jerseyville's Larry Price Friday to eventually score a pin on the Panther. Wakeford's pin was the first of three for the Warriors as they went on to easily defeat the Panthers 44-15.

Against Scott AFB

Stars come back for first win

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — With just over 15 minutes left to play last Thursday night, Terry Collins' Granite City Center Stars basketball team trailed the Flyers of Scott Air Force Base by 52-35.

Not only were the Stars eyeball to eyeball with defeat at the Center gymnasium, but a loss meant Collins' program still would remain rooted at ground zero. The Stars hadn't won in six previous tries, and this was Collins' first season as their coach. He also doubles as the school's athletic director.

But there was a happy ending for Stars' fans. Their ship is now in orbit, thanks to a gritty 76-76 victory.

YOU COULDN'T tell by the tone of his voice, but the soft-spoken Collins was wildly euphoric. Needless to say, it was quite a lift-off.

"Yeah, it was a great comeback. There's no getting around it," allowed Collins, who made it a point to shake the hand of every member of his team as they left for the night.

"That says something about our players," said Collins. "They didn't give up. They just didn't give up. That's a real credit to them."

The Stars' long comeback was fueled by a tenacious pressing defense, and heady play by guard Wayne Wright and clutch shooting from Melvin Walker and Jerry Adams. Then, however, the entire roster pitched in, from Al Johnson and Leslie Terrell to Pat Linhart and Terron Ware.

MIND YOU, the Stars haven't played that badly this season. In fact, before last Thursday's game the six teams that had beaten the Stars boasted a combined 20-4 record. Last Thursday wasn't the first time Collins expressed his satisfaction to his players with a handshake. But the hand grips may have lingered a while longer after dropping Scott Air Force Base to 3-8 on the season.

"It was probably the only time all year we had all five guys playing well for an extended length of time," Collins said. "The last 15 minutes of the second half all our guys played hard."

It was Collins himself who coined the term "ground zero." A little background: Last year, Collins served as an assistant basketball coach at Washington University.

IT WAS at Washington University Collins met Larry Graham, who coached the Stars last season. Collins applied for Graham's position when Graham took over as head basketball coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

At Granite City Center, Graham was hugely successful posting a 19-8 record. When Graham left, he took with him two starters from that team. Collins inherited a squad that had just one returning starter in Linhart.

"We're starting the program from ground zero," Collins said. "We're not concerned. We just take what we have. We start with the situation we have and work hard every game. The results will come. Tonight the results did come."

WALKER tallied 19 points to lead the Stars, and Adams chipped in with 16. Johnson popped in 13 points and Wright scored eight, in addition to providing court leadership.

The real hero, however, was the Stars' pressing defense, which forced the Flyers into numerous turnovers and disrupted their offensive flow. Trailing 41-33 at halftime, the Stars saw matters get worse, however. They found themselves down by 17 points early into the second half before a pair of free throws by Walker started their burning.

THE STARS, and their pressing defense, continued to cut into the Stars' deficit. Finally, with just under five minutes left, the Stars pulled even with the Eagles at 67-67 on a free throw by Walker, then went ahead when Walker chalked up two more free throws seconds later.

Once they caught up with Scott Air Force Base, the Stars did not buckle. A tip in by Johnson and a long range shot by Linhart kept the Stars even, before they went ahead, 75-74, on a pair of free throws by Adams. It was Adams who made the next big play, pulling down a rebound off a missed Scott Air Force Base shot. Just 29 seconds remained.

THE STARS maintained possession until 11 seconds were left and Wright was fouled. The plucky floor leader made both free throws, and the Stars forced another turnover and collected another point on a free throw by Adams, putting the contest out of reach.

0... Lift-off. The Stars are up.

Collins made no predictions how well the Stars will do the remainder of the season. But it is a nice feeling to get off the ground for himself, the program, and especially his players. "I'm happy for them," said Collins.

SCOTT AFB 41 35-76
GCCENTER 33 45-78

Adams named Stars' MVP

Jerry Adams, the center for the Granite City Center Stars basketball team, has been named the player of the week at GCC.

"Jerry was chosen as an All-Tournament player at the Dutchman Classic tournament," said Coach Terry Collins. "In our first game against Edwardsville's junior varsity team, he scored 30 points. In our second game against the Belleville Area College Dutchmen, he scored 27 points and had 12 rebounds."

"Jerry has made tremendous improvement since the start of this year. He was not a starter at the beginning of the season. He is very aggressive and has used that to his advantage. He is an excellent rebounder. I just hope he will continue to improve the rest of the season at the same rate he has the last few months."

Wright is a sophomore at GCC.

Play Friday In Cape
SIUE loses at home to DruryBy AL BARNES
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Lack of experience, especially that of playing together, has hurt Coach Larry Graham and his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team this season.

Now, 15 after losing a 69-54 decision to the Panthers of Drury College of Springfield, Mo., Saturday night, Graham's Cougars again fell victim of not being able to sustain a good first-half effort.

The Drury Panthers of Coach Marvin Walker are, year in and year out, contenders for the national N.A.I.A. (small school) top honors. But, Saturday night, Graham's Cougars played the stylish Panthers on better than even terms the first half and had the large and noisy crowd at the Vandalabene Gym screaming for blood.

After falling behind in the early going when they ran into an early "cold spell," the Cougars took off after trailing 10-16 with 12 minutes gone on the clock and rallied to lead 28 to 26 with 3:16 remaining in the first half.

Then, the Cougars ran nearly a minute off the clock when a missed pass gave the Panther's Mike Blakeless the ball and he hit a long one to bring Drury back to two points of SIUE, 26-28.

Again, this time with 1:12 still left in the half, the Cougars stalled to get the last shot. And, with the usually sure handed Bill Pope of Madison controlling the ball and still four seconds left on the clock, it happened.

Pope drove through the free throw line and refusing to take the easy layup, he passed off and Drury's point guard, Ted Young, grabbed the ball and sprinted down the court to score all alone with just one second left on the clock and tying the game up, 28-28.

The game then happened earlier in the season (the third game, in fact) against Central Missouri State (on the road), when the Cougars battled to a first half 21-21 deadlock only to lose it, 39-55.

Talking about Central Missouri, Coach Graham has high hopes that when the Central comes to the Vandalabene Gym on Tuesday, Dec. 18th, his team's chances will be much better. At that time, he hopes to have two of former Madison High stars, Patrick Hatter and Ken Stanley eligible to play for the Cougars.

Probably just as important as the Cougars' lack of experience was the hot-shooting of Drury's tiny little guard, Tom Dettfebaugh, who led all game scorers with 23 points on his sensational outcourt shooting. He drilled nine of 14 from the floor and five of six from the charity line. A native of Fayetteville, Ark., it's a mystery how the Razorbacks of the U. of Arkansas could have let him slip out of their hands.

Dwight Newsome (16 points) and Mike Hunter (11 points) paced the Cougars' scoring. Mike Dillon, SIUE's rugged center, also made nine points, but his play shortened when he quickly gathered four personal fouls.

The Cougars will take to the road on Friday at Cape Girardeau to play the Indians of Southeast Missouri State.

Monday SPORTS

Warrior Hockey Skaters playing to full house

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The temperature outside this Monday evening is 31 degrees. But you'd better bundle up, because Ollie Raymond says it's going to get even colder.

Destination: The Wilson Park Ice Rink, where the Granite City High School club hockey team is to play Francis Howell. You figure you'll see a good game. The Warriors have skated off six straight victories. In fact, Francis Howell is the only team the Warriors haven't beaten in their North Division, one of four divisions in the 26-team Midwest States Club Hockey Association.

WHAT this means is that if the Warriors win tonight, they will have beaten every team in their division. One more thing. The Warriors haven't lost yet.

There was one thing you hadn't counted on, however, as you pull your car into the parking lot of the ice rink. You didn't think you'd have to park in a back row, where the weeds are growing through the cracks.

Then, however, this was your first game. You haven't heard the word.

"Ollie was right," you mutter, as you step outside. It has gotten colder. But that doesn't seem to matter much, not when you look up and see that you are not alone this Monday night.

THE WALKWAYS leading to the building are crowded. That's the word you haven't heard. The Warriors are performing before huge audiences this season.

You feel warmer. That's the thing about packed parking lots and lots of people. It takes the chill off a frosty night.

You're inside now. It's funny how you can tell about fans. It's easy to spot the ones from Francis Howell. They look somewhat out of place, and a bit glum. Then, however, how can you be happy when your team is about ready to clash with the hottest team in the Association. So, you make it easy for yourself. You don't talk to them.

INSTEAD, you walk up to Jerry Lakin. He's a big Warrior fan. He's sipping what looks like coffee. It's a few minutes before game time.

You're wrong about one thing, though, Jerry doesn't have a son on the team. He's just a big fan.

"I watched them while they were losing, and I'm watching them while they're winning," Jerry says, drawing another drink.

You have to take close. The lobby is buzzing with talk. That's what happens when you're team is winning. The decibel in lobbies jumps up a few notches.

"I'VE SEEN more people here than I ever have before," Jerry says. "I see more participating from the high school kids, which is good. In fact, it's great."

You also realize your car has company in the parking lot.

"It used to be," Jerry says, "you could get a parking space in front. Now, you've got to go to the back."

Bill Schreiber, whose son Lee is a member of the team, is standing a few feet away. Jerry suggests you talk to him. So you do.

"It used to be we'd get a crowd of 25 to 30 people: 40 to 60 tops," Bill says. "Most of them were parents."

THE PROGRAM has developed. Bill points out. The talent has increased. Now, they play an extremely competitive game.

It is now time to play, and the Warrior skaters are taking the ice. Jerry motions as the red and black clad players step inside the rink.

"There's the story right there," he says. "These kids are good."

What is it about the Warriors? Why are they off to their best start ever? They don't look too big, but they do have style. That's what the fans will tell you. That's what Jacob Hinter says.

JACOB'S Todd, is a starting defenseman for the Warriors. Jacob has a clear view of the action tonight, as he stands behind the Warrior goal.

"I don't know how to say it," he says, as he searches for the proper way to explain for the Warriors' huge on-and-off ice success this season. "There's just something to watch. They get a lot of shots on net."

Jacob pauses. His tone lowers. He's about ready to say something dramatic. "I really think," Jacob says, weighing each word, "that they've got a chance to go all the way this year."

They were certainly going places this year. You could tell that by listening to the cheerleaders. That's right. The hockey team has cheerleaders.

ONE OF their cheers catches your attention. Mostly because it reminds you of a chant from a group of soldiers in the movie, "Officer And A Gentleman." It was the one soldiers chanted while they were running through some woods. The cheerleaders weren't running, but they were chanting.

"Say, Say, Going To Win This Game..."

WELL, the girls were busy cheering. There was much to cheer about. The Warriors had already chalked up four goals, and there was still nearly five minutes left to play in the first period.

It was 5-1 when the first intermission mercifully arrived for beleaguered Francis Howell.

You might think Connie Williamson, you've got to go to the back."

Pam Love is the captain. Kim Killohughy is the co-captain. There's also Rachel Stefanoff, Donna Estabrook, Shelly Chromister, Kim Armour and Missy Ostrega. They didn't have time to talk much, a tall girl in the back row informs you.

"Can we talk to you in between periods?" she asks, politely.

WELL, the girls were busy cheering. There was much to cheer about. The Warriors had already chalked up four goals, and there was still nearly five minutes left to play in the first period.

It was 5-1 when the first intermission mercifully arrived for beleaguered Francis Howell.

Cardinals Win Big

TOUCHDOWN. St. Louis Cardinals' running back Otis Anderson scampers around the left side for this second-half touchdown Sunday against the New York Giants. Pursuing Anderson in New York's Lawrence Taylor. The Cardinals won the game 31-21 to continue their hunt for the National Football Conference Central Division title. Next Sunday the Cardinals travel to Washington to take on the Redskins.

Warriors

Warriors held a 54-49 lead with 1:27 left to play.

A free throw by Doug Sperry and a driving basket by Mark Lanxon brought the Maroons to within 54-52. The Warriors stemmed the rally when Joe Gray dropped in a pair of free throws with 47 seconds left.

But the Maroons kept battling. Thanks to some missed free throws from the Warriors and two free throws from Lanxon with 11 seconds left, the Maroons found themselves in a position to tie.

WITH ONE second showing, the Maroons' Kevin Prindable took an inbound pass, turned and fired a 25-foot shot toward the basket. The ball went in, but the basket that would have sent the game into overtime was disallowed when the official ruled the game had ended before Prindable shot.

Belleville West coach Roger Mueller, at first, balked and angrily called the timekeeper. Later, however, Mueller searched out the timekeeper to apologize. Though he said he thought the second "went quick," Mueller pointed out he did not know how much of the second was left.

"I wanted it to be the maximum," the dapper Maroon coach said. Instead, he and the Maroons probably got the minimum.

Welcome back to the SWC, Warriors.

WARRIOR NOTES: Deterding gave much credit to Belleville West, but he still thought the Warriors played poorly. The fact the off-performance came on a Saturday night is ominous for Warrior players, especially those who like to sleep late on Saturday mornings.

"I just seems we don't play well on Saturday nights," said Deterding, who warned, "I'm going to wait one more Saturday."

Should the Warriors again play badly in their next Saturday night game, which is against Wood River, the axe will fall.

"I'm going to get those son-of-a-guns out of bed at 6 a.m. I'll have them shooting free throws at 7 a.m.," Deterding said.

"Rest," assured, the Warriors' have one important figure hoping for a stellar performance next Saturday: Deterding.

"I don't want to get up (early) either," the coach confided.

Illinois receives $1.8 million

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois recently received $1,867,177 in federal apportionments to be used for reimbursing state expense in approved fish restoration, wildlife restoration and hunter safety programs, according to Conservation Department Director Michael J. Hines.

The payments are the first of two federal allocations for 1985. The funds come from excise taxes levied on hunting and fishing equipment. Fishing monies are raised under the authority of the Dingell-Johnson Act, and the wildlife and hunter safety funds under the Pittman-Robertson Act.

For the first allocation of 1985, Illinois received $912,063 in fish restoration funds, $1,355,112 for wildlife restoration and hunter safety. Witt reported.

The U. S. Department of the Interior apportioned a total of $92,100,000 among the 50 states, territories and District of Columbia based on formulas which include the state's number of license holders, water surface acres and land acreage. Hunter safety funds are apportioned based on relative population.

The Dingell-Johnson program was recently broadened by legislation creating the Wallop-Breaux Fund which is expected to add millions nationally by extending the excise tax to include additional items. Since Oct. 1, a 10 percent excise tax has been levied on tackle boxes and related equipment, and a three percent tax on rolling motors and flasher-type fish finders.

IRS, state crackdown on child support

The Illinois Department of Public Aid says it is zeroing in on 42,000 fathers who have failed to pay child support.

Their names are being submitted to the Internal Revenue Service for income tax offsets, Public Aid Director Gregory L. Coler said Thursday.

"Fathers who think their child support responsibilities should come out of the pockets of taxpayers will find that they are dead wrong," Coler said.

"The agreement we have with the IRS shows that we mean business."

"Those who owe the State of Illinois cash do not deserve to receive money from the government."

"Fathers whose names have been sent to the IRS may lose some or all of their 1984 federal income tax refunds under the federal income tax Offset Program. All of the fathers involved have ignored child support orders for at least three months," Coler asserted.

"Millions of dollars in overdue child support have been collected over the past few years as a result of the IRS offsets."

"Now that the department has made this program such a high priority, collections are expected to increase significantly. More than twice as many named have been submitted to the IRS this year than in the recent past."

"Since taking over as director almost a year ago, I have placed child support on the top of my priority list," Coler said.

"We have seen child support collections jump by 200 percent over the last two years, partly because of this program. I will not be satisfied, though, until every father meets his moral and legal duties to support his children."

Man seen in home; arrest for residential burglary

Barry L. Hutchinson, 21, of 1444 State St. was charged Thursday with residential burglary after allegedly entering and then fleeing from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duckworth, 1821 Delmar Ave., at 10:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Hutchinson remained in custody after being arraigned in the Granite City court Thursday afternoon. He had been arrested at his apartment at 11:15 p.m. Wednesday.

It is alleged that a makeup case and $100 in cash were taken from the home while the Duckworths were away.

When a family member returned, it was noted that a bedroom window had been broken out and an additional light had been turned on. Upon opening the front door, the family member saw a man run from the bedroom through the living room and then out another door.

Q: I have made a campaign loan to a candidate who ran for federal office in this year's elections. My question is, perhaps, after the fact, but I am wondering if there is a limit on the amount a private individual may loan to a campaign treasury?

A: The Federal Elections Campaign Act is quite specific in that campaign loans are handled in the same way as are contributions, until such loans are repaid. An individual is permitted to contribute up to $1,000 to each candidate for federal election. He may make up to a $20,000 contribution to a national party committee, and up to a $5,000 contribution to other political committees, all per calendar year. The total allowance per year for an individual's campaign related contributions is $25,000. If you have additional questions, the Federal Election Commission has set up a toll free number for information. The number is 1-800-424-9530.

Charge Chemetco with polluting

A Mitchell area copper processing corporation has been charged with water pollution and illegal storage and disposal of hazardous wastes, in a 10-count complaint which Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan filed last week with the Illinois Pollution Control Board.

Chemetco, Inc., an international firm incorporated in Delaware, was charged with a series of pollution violations between 1982 and 1984 at its plant located on Route 3 near Hartford in Madison County. Four counts allege that Chemetco has violated water pollution standards under the State Environmental Protection Act and six counts charge the company with violation of state hazardous waste disposal laws paralleling the federal Resource Conservation Recovery Act (RCRA).

TWO WATER pollution counts involve excessive discharge of heavy metals, including copper, lead, mercury and zinc. The other two water pollution counts allege that groundwater has been contaminated by the metals.

The hazardous waste violations include failure to provide the Illinois

EPA with proper reports documenting solid financial stature and groundwater monitoring plans. The complaint also alleges that Chemetco has failed to submit reports outlining emergency response procedures in the event of an accidental release of metals.

The complaint asks the board to order the corporation to clean up existing slag piles, lagoons and contaminated groundwater. It also asks for civil penalties of at least $10,000 for each water violation and $25,000 for each RCRA hazardous waste violation.

IN 1983, the attorney general's office sued Chemetco for air pollution violations, which resulted in an upgrading of emissions equipment at its Hartford plant.

Rotary Anns attend seasonal gathering

The Granite City Rotary Anns ushered in the holiday season with a party at the home of Mrs. Jean Maxwell.

Miss Ginger Booker of Madison, entertained the group with a selection of songs. The talented singer has received local recognition and recently won a 1984 automobile in competition held in Philadelphia, Pa.

Other activities included the singing of Christmas Carols to the accompaniment of Valerie Stevens as well as the traditional gift exchange.

Hostesses for the evening besides Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. Stevens were Lorraine Decatur, Ruth Poisson, Betty Mathias and Thelma Sues. Others attending were Mignon Abernethy, Mrs. Bobbie Booker, Linda Bristol, Carol Davis, Carmie Froelming, Diana Hunkel, Becky Jones, Dorothy Kerch, Kathy Lombardi, Mary Matosian, Barb Mihalich, Gail Miller, Gaye Ross, Tammy Rush, Julie Simcosky, Jo Ann Terrell, June Van Horn, Rotary Exchange Student Maria Claudia Victoria, and Lois Winter.

Mrs. Dorothy Kerch will entertain the group at a luncheon meeting at her home on Jan. 8, it was announced.

Gifts of long ago displayed at Old Six Mile yule meeting

The Old Six Mile Historical Society held its December meeting in the Fellowship Hall of Central Christian Church with 42 members and guests present for a potluck dinner.

The tables were decorated with baskets of greenery and Christmas balls and glowing red candles.

An attendance prize was won by Mrs. Velma Farrance, and Mrs. Lucretia Durbin presented the society with a 1917 picture of the Granite City Police Department, a 1917 picture of one of the classes at Emerson School, and the Minutes' Book from the Constable's Association starting with 1917.

Mrs. Georgia Engelke, president, conducted a brief business meeting before introducing Mrs. Marguerite Lexow, program chairman.

Mrs. Lexow introduced Mrs. Linda Koenig who sang four Christmas songs accompanied by Mrs. Barbara Williams. Mrs. Koenig explained to the group the reasons behind the songs and challenged the group to listen to the messages delivered through the words of the songs.

The Rev. Dale Scott, interim minister at Central Christian, led the group in singing some familiar carols with his accompaniment on the dulcimer. Rev. Scott explained that the dulcimer had four strings, with three of them being tuned to the same pitch. He said one could either strum the instrument or chord on it.

One of the unusual features of a dulcimer was that it was built from a kit that was presented to him by a friend at a former pastorate in Boone Terre, Mo. Rev. Scott accepted the challenge of building the instrument and was proud of his accomplishment.

The dulcimer is an American instrument primarily coming from the Ozark or Appalachian areas. Some of the musical sounds can resemble the Scottish bagpipes.

The hymn, Silent Night, was written by Franz Gruber. It was learned that Mr. Gruber was Mrs. Elizabeth Gargae's uncle, four generations back, and Donald Gargae's uncle, five generations back. Another Granite Cityan, a Mrs. Westphal, is also related to the composer.

Another interesting part of the program introduced by Mrs. Lexow was entitled "Gifts of Long Ago."

Among the gifts shown and described were those from weddings, graduations, Christmas, and other occasions.

Mrs. Lexow displayed a bone comb decorated with red stones, which was originally her mother's, and was worn in the back of the hair in about 1890.

Mrs. Velma Devine described a child's sewing machine from the 1930s and Mrs. Koenig demonstrated a favorite toy, a top that had a distinctive humming sound.

Mrs. Engelke showed an ivory fan received as a graduation gift, a copy of "The Night Before Christmas" printed on parchment paper, a collector's figurine of George Washington on a horse which was over 30 years old, and a sterling silver-backed brush which belonged to the mother of Wilbert Engelke. A purse made in New York which included one of the first purse zippers, and which belonged to Mrs. Engelke's mother, was exhibited along with its contents, which were the baby shoes of all the Engelke children. The children did not know their mother had saved all the shoes for over 60 years, she said.

Mrs. Clara Schilling exhibited a necklace, a brooch, and a bar pin which she had received over 70 years ago. Mrs. Alma Beckman termed her gift "The First Christmas Club Savings Account." It was a 1912 bank which she also called the Santa Claus Bank. Money was saved all year to give to Santa to buy her gifts for Christmas.

Udell Bischoff had a toy iron tractor which was just like one he used to drive, and Loraine Bischoff showed a crystal bride's basket, a Bennington pottery door knob filled with tiny flowers, and a teddy bear that she gave their daughter 31 years ago.

Mrs. Elsie Hawk brought a ruby and clear crystal mug that belongs to Grace Jones. The mug is marked with "1900" and "Madison County," probably relating to the county fair that year.

Gracis Judd had a multipostcard series of photographs from Alton which featured all the important sites in 1920, and Mrs. Dorothy Frohardt showed a picture of a gift that she never did appreciate. She received a piano, but she had wanted a two-wheel bicycle. She said she was still waiting for Santa to bring that two-wheeler.

Her husband, Waldo, had a small solid lead weight, shaped like a bell, which he used with an erector set. He also said that he must have been a spoiled child, being the youngest of nine children, because his brothers and sisters always got gifts that the entire family could enjoy.

Mrs. Evelyn Fides described an asbestos bat iron, dated May 22, 1900, which was sent to her while she was living on a homestead in Montana. Her husband, Jesse, showed a sewing bird, dated February 15, 1853, which was a picture of a bird material so that the ladies would have both hands free with which to work.

Alvin Thauru exhibited a shot glass from long ago which had McKelley's picture on it and the words "gold standard" and William Jennings Bryan's picture and the words "silver standard." Separate measurements were marked on the glass for men and for women.

A number of the members promised some interesting exhibits for the next "show and tell" program.

Mrs. Lexow announced that the next meeting will be Monday, Jan. 7, and Mrs. Ruth Jensen will speak on "Cemeteries."

A purse made in New York which included one of the first purse zippers, and which belonged to Mrs. Engelke's mother, was exhibited along with its contents, which were the baby shoes of all the Engelke children. The children did not know their mother had saved all the shoes for over 60 years, she said.

Mrs. Clara Schilling exhibited a necklace, a brooch, and a bar pin which she had received over 70 years ago. Mrs. Alma Beckman termed her gift "The First Christmas Club Savings Account." It was a 1912 bank which she also called the Santa Claus Bank. Money was saved all year to give to Santa to buy her gifts for Christmas.

State bank agency is first accredited

The Illinois Office of the Commissioner of Banks and Trust Companies has become the first state banking department in the nation to receive full accreditation in the Conference of State Bank Supervisors (CSBS) accreditation program.

In accepting the award from CSBS Performance Standards Chairman Signey A. Bailey, Gov. James R. Thompson said, "I am proud that Illinois led the nation in setting the standards for bank regulation in a time when the financial services industry is becoming increasingly diverse and complex."

The accreditation program was designed to provide state banking departments with an independent external evaluation of their operations and personnel. A similar program has been recommended by the Bank Group on Financial Services, chaired by Vice President George Bush and co-chaired by Secretary of the Treasury Donald T. Regan. The evaluation leading up to accreditation was conducted during the past year and included on-site reviews of the department's operations and personnel.

"This accreditation paves the way for decreased federal presence in the state-chartered banks in Illinois," Illinois Commissioner William Harris said.

The accreditation, subject to annual review, remains in effect until 1989 when the department must submit itself for recertification.

PODIATRIST-FOOT SPECIALIST
WHEN YOUR FEET HURT
YOU HURT ALL OVER

The human foot is a highly complex piece of machinery. Each foot contains twenty-six bones, many muscles, tendons and ligaments which are all intricately interrelated. These must all act together in harmony to produce a normally functioning foot. When abnormal foot function occurs normal alignment of the foot is compromised and disorders may begin to manifest themselves both within and outside of the foot. Many common foot disorders such as bunions, corns, hammertoes, heel spurs and certain types of arthritis may be caused by faulty foot function. Leg aches and chronic low back pain are often caused by an imbalanced foot. Many persons purchase shoe after shoe in an unsuccessful attempt to relieve their foot problems. This is because these people have foot trouble and not shoe trouble. Finding the right shoe for a foot cure would be like trying to find the right hat to cure a headache.

Today, many podiatrists are able to restore normal foot function when required. This is desirable for two reasons. First, to relieve the patient's present problem and secondly, to help prevent other difficulties from arising in the future.

Madison Middle School officials consider in-school suspension

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

Madison Middle School students who are unruly or cause disciplinary problems may find themselves in an in-school suspension center.

A committee comprised of Middle School Principal Earl McClanahan, Assistant Principal Richard Spiller and five teachers presented a list of offenses and rules for the proposed center to the Madison School Board Thursday night.

McClanahan says he is "ready to implement the program," but is awaiting staffing of the center. "I talked to all the teachers in the building, and none were interested in leaving their classrooms to staff the room. We do have people on the sub list (substitute teaching list) who may want to take the position for the remainder of the year."

McClanahan said the committee designed the proposed in-school suspension program after a similar program used in the high school.

School Board Member Bulle Bosworth asked McClanahan about the stress associated with staffing a room of students with disciplinary problems. McClanahan told her the room would only have about 15 students at any given time. "I would not assume the stress would be any greater than in the classroom," he said.

ASKED ABOUT THE need for such a program, McClanahan said, the majority of the teachers feel it would be helpful. Some (teachers) do not need it. They don't have discipline problems.

Spiller, who is responsible for handling discipline problems at the school, added, "I'd say that most of the problems have been minor. Most of them deal with fighting. It is possible there is some need for it. As we get into it, we can see the beneficial aspects of having an in-school suspension program."

Spiller would decide when a student should receive an in-school suspension.

MATH TEACHER James Beattie, a member of the committee studying the program, commented to the board, "If you send a child home for three days, the chances are that his homework will never get done. With in-school suspension, a learning process can go on."

Mrs. Bosworth said she is concerned about the staffing of the center. "It's very important that we be careful. If we have to have a sub the program, we can watch this go down the drain. If we get someone who's too lunkadical."

"None of us want to see someone put in there and not do the justice to this program we think we can do. I think it will be a great plus to our system," she added.

BEATTIE NOTED, "I think it's of paramount importance that we put someone in charge who can handle the program."

Madison School Superintendent John Palchett said the next step is for the board to consider the program, hire someone to staff the program, and possibly get started by the first of the year.

According to an outline presented by the committee to the board, offenses such as truancy, skipping classes and excessive tardies may result in in-school suspension for one to five days. Other offenses listed in the outline include cafeteria and hallway misconduct, smoking on school property, bringing or playing radios, tape players or recorders during school hours, fighting, unauthorized roaming of the halls, littering, defacing of school property and improper dress.

MORE SERIOUS offenses could result in suspension or expulsion from school and possibly a police report.

Once a student is assigned to the in-school suspension program, the outline states, the student must refrain from communicating verbally or non-verbally with other students, except during lunch break. The student must bring all books and class materials to the center and may not go to his or her locker. The student must complete all assigned work before checking out reading materials from the supervisor and must leave the campus immediately after finishing the suspension.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Frequently people come to this office with injuries sustained in an automobile accident. In many of these cases, the other driver is at fault but has no automobile insurance. Statistics indicate that more than 40 percent of the vehicle owners in this area are uninsured. Can an injured person recover any monetary damages if the accident is caused by an uninsured driver? The answer depends upon what insurance coverage is provided under the injured person's own automobile policy.

It should be made clear at the outset that the injured person can bring a lawsuit against the uninsured driver. In this situation, the victim can undoubtedly obtain a judgment for damages against the party at fault. Without insurance, however, there may be difficulty in collecting on this judgment. It has been the experience of this writer that it often is a waste of time to bring suit against an uninsured driver. Most do not have the assets to satisfy a substantial judgment for personal injuries. In addition, many uninsured drivers who are found to be at fault will file bankruptcy and discharge in full the obligation owed to the injured person.

One option which is available to the injured person in this situation is to seek recovery under his own insurance policy. Recent legislation in Illinois provides that no automobile insurance policy may be issued unless it has uninsured motorist coverage. This serves to protect the policyholder in the event of physical injury or death caused by an uninsured driver.

Let's assume that you are driving toward an intersection, and a car coming from your left runs a stop sign and collides with your vehicle. The driver at fault does not have insurance, but you have a full range of coverage. Let us further assume that you sustain a broken arm and miss three months of work. You have a choice in this situation of suing the uninsured driver or looking to your own uninsured coverage.

One problem which may develop is that you can only recover under an uninsured motorist provision up to the limits of your coverage. In many cases, this will only be $15,000, which is the minimum amount required by law. In our example, this would probably be enough to cover the medical bills, lost wages, and pain and suffering of the injured person. If the injuries were more severe, however, the uninsured motorist coverage may not be adequate.

STEAMY CARGO. Trucks like these, laden with pit slag from St. Louis Slag Co., have been a common sight in Granite City this month. The trucks are delivering the cargo to the Amoco Oil Company in Wood River, where the material is being used for a construction project. Questions were raised as to why the trucks were not complying with a new city law that requires loads to be covered with tarpaulins. The Press-Record learned that Mayor Paul Schuler has directed the police department not to enforce the law until a legal suit can be done. A group of truck drivers has retained a local lawyer to represent them if the law is enforced. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

February timing for Terrell film

Greg Terrell, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill H. Terrell of Granite City, will be featured on nationwide television in February in the motion picture, "Two Fathers," friends here have learned.

Telecast on NBC-TV, the film will feature Terrell as the son of actor George Hamilton. Actor Robert Conrad portrays the father of Terrell's fiancée in the movie, and Conrad also served as the director. It was filmed in Chicago.

The 1978 Granite City high school graduate gained experience as a television newsman while attending college-level classes and, still later, began doing photographic modeling of men's clothing, with many of the resulting advertisements appearing in national magazines.

Those experiences led to an acting role on TV in the newly-completed motion picture.

Already well known in this community as an individual, Terrell is becoming even better known thanks to various publications and billboards for which he was photographed.

His image in recent days has appeared on Stix, Baer & Fuller and American Express Co. advertising billboards on Watson Road east of the Crestwood area and on Interstate 270 west of Lindbergh Boulevard.

Terrell graduated from the University of Missouri at Columbia and then studied for two years at a Baptist theological seminary in San Francisco.

He spent much of his time on the West Coast and in Chicago but visits here frequently with his parents, his sister, Tammi, and his brother, Rob. His father is area manager of the Ben Franklin Life Insurance Co.

Greg Terrell's career seems destined to be long and exciting, friends say, but his "Two Fathers" role occupies only about the first one-third of the production. At that point, his character in the film dies.

According to Costoff, he will announce a full slate of candidates for the April city election sometime in January.

"We have some very qualified people who want to run with John. When we ask someone, we want to be sure that he or she wants to do a good job for all of the people of Madison. You find out if they are qualified to do a good job," Costoff said.

"I am really happy so many people are volunteering to work in the campaign. You find out if they are qualified to do a good job," Costoff said.

Costoff is the current alderman of Ward Two in Madison and will seek re-election in April.

Local sponsors give scholarships for Operation Snowball participants

The eighth Region IV Operation Snowball Weekend was conducted recently at Camp Salateeska in Pinckneyville, Ill. Officials say 127 students, youth staff and adult staff participated in the drug abuse prevention weekend.

According to program officials, Operation Snowball is an educational and peer-leadership training program. The purpose of Region IV Operation Snowball is to bring together professional resources and teenagers from Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Washington, Clinton, Bond and Randolph counties to explore issues and share information about alcohol, other drug misuses and related life problems.

The program is sponsored by Piasa Health Care and the Belleville News Democrat, in cooperation with the Illinois Alcoholism and Drug Dependence Association.

Local sponsors providing scholarships of $60 and their Operation Snowball scholarship recipients are The Quad Club for Madison High School, Granite City, for Kim Owens; Madison 294 Club, Inc. for Stevie Ball and Mark Purkay; Madison Minerva Reading Club for Tina Claggett and Titus Shipp; Betty Hosier, Granite City, for Joe Hosier; Granite City Rotary Club for Jeff Cox and Tammi Moore; Dale and Irene Orr, Madison, for Wakita Walker; Venice grade and high school teachers for Wakita Walker, and Ruth Marie Welch, Madison, for Titus Shipp.

Operation Snowball developed out of the Illinois Teenage Institute on Substance Abuse (ITI). Officials say these two prevention programs share the common purpose of providing young people with the education and skills to choose not to use alcohol and other drugs, and to be positive peer influences in their communities.

Operation Snowball originated locally in 1980 with the assistance of a seed grant provided by the News Democrat of Belleville.

An advanced Operation Snowball weekend is scheduled for April 19 through 21. Officials urge any teenager interested in attending Operation Snowball, or any organization interested in sponsoring a teenager, to call 1-345-3200.

Streamline Ill. state bond law

The General Obligation Bond Act, newly signed, provides the first comprehensive rewrite of Illinois state bond statutes since 1972.

The bill also contains $119.3 million in increased bonding authorization for state building projects that were appropriated in the spring legislative session. That figure includes $38.5 million in construction money for the new Galesburg prison, which is to be under construction by late January or early February.

This legislation, an initiative we outlined in last March's budget message, is a major step toward improving the marketing of Illinois bonds in today's financial markets.

Gov. James R. Thompson said, "Illinois is one of the first states in the nation to adopt a consolidated general obligation bond act. It will sell $100 million in G.O. bonds in January 1985, under the new legislation."

The new law consolidates the Capital Development, Transportation, School Construction, Anti-Pollution and Coal Development, bond acts into a unified bond set. This legislation will allow the state to issue a multiple-purpose bond, which is preferred by bond dealers, Thompson said.

The act makes the following changes to improve the marketing of state bonds:

1. Allows greater flexibility in timing bond sales to market conditions.
2. Reduces fees paid by the state to banks that transfer the ownership of Illinois bonds between investors.
3. Permits refunding bonds to be sold to reduce interest costs of bonds sold when interest rates were at historic highs.

4. Improves the security of payments to bondholders by advancing the transfer of state funds to a new bond retirement and interest fund.
5. Eliminates inconsistencies in the old bond acts regarding the source of payment of state bonds.

Mitchell School PTA sponsors wildlife talk

The care and rehabilitation of injured wild animals and their release back into their natural environment was discussed by Adele Evans of the Treehouse Wildlife Center at an assembly at Mitchell School. The assembly was sponsored by the Mitchell School PTA.

Dr. Richard Evans, Mrs. Evans' husband, operates the facility, located in Brighton, Ill.

Mrs. Evans told the children about the wildlife center, one of the most complete rehabilitation centers in the country. Dr. Evans is able to receive an injured animal, perform surgery, if necessary, rehabilitate and eventually release the animal back into the wild, all from one location.

Mrs. Evans brought to the school two wild animals for the children to see, Jacob, a barred owl, and Melba, an orphaned opossum, both under care at the center.

She told the children that to remove wild animals from their wildlife habitats for pets was in violation of Illinois conservation laws. Despite the laws people still take wild animals for pets each year, she told the assembly.

Mrs. Evans told the children that the wildlife center receives many of these animals when the people start having problems with the adult, mature animals.

Both the illegally-obtained animals and other orphaned animals that are found begin their rehabilitation back to their natural environment at the center. This includes being trained to survive in the wild and their eventual release.

She advised the children that the local conservation officer or the Treehouse Center in Brighton should be called before trying to help any wild animals that are found strayed from their natural habitat.

SMILE TIME

AMERICA'S MID-DAY WAS LIGHTENED CONSIDERABLY IN THE 1940S WHEN A THEN UNKNOWN PERFORMER NAMED STEVE ALLEN COMBINED HIS TALENTS WITH WENDELL NOBLE AND JUNE FORAY FOR A DAFFY COMEDY SHOW. THE HIGHLIGHT WAS USUALLY A TAKE-OFF ON SOME POPULAR RADIO PROGRAM OF THE DAY...

"YOUNG DR. MALCOLM" (YOUNG DR. MALCOLM)
 "LIFE CAN BE BLAAM" (LIFE CAN BE BEAUTIFUL)
 "DR. ICE CUBE" (DR. I. Q.)

"MANUEL LABOR" WAS A FREQUENT SMILE TIME GUEST...

SINCE 1954, STEVE ALLEN HAS BEEN A POPULAR TELEVISION PERSONALITY.

ALLEN, NOBLE AND FORAY PLAYED ALL THE PARTS ON THIS RADIO SHOW. TODAY JUNE FORAY'S VOICE IS HEARD ON MANY TV CARTOON SHOWS.
